Liquidity and Capital Resources, page 121

1. We note your response to comment 5. Please address the following:

Considering your working capital deficit as of December 31, 2018, please disclose the basis for the conclusion that "working capital is sufficient for our present requirements for the next 12 months" in light of the fact that net payouts have exceeded revenues in both fiscal years 2017 and 2018 resulting in transfers of additional cash from your consolidated entities in Niwodai Internet and Shanghai Caiyin during these periods in order to fund the excess payout amounts. If there are other potential sources of funding available for the net payouts in 2019 (e.g. from entities identified in the corporate structure table on page 83) please disclose this fact; and In your discussion on page 122 of the change in fee schedule and payment terms in 2018, you disclose service fees collected in 2018 for loans facilitated after the April 28, 2018 change. To clarify the impact of the change in fee schedule and payment terms on operating cash flows, also disclose both the total service fees collected and net revenues recognized in fiscal periods 2017 and 2018.
